Stearns was employed as a salesman by the company and in five indictments against him he was charged he collected money for supplies which he never delivered. There are several other charges of like kind against him, one of them being in Lynn and the Lynn police have left warrants in the sheriff's office for arrest of Stearns as soon as he completes his present sentence. To the indictment against him Stearns pleaded guilty.

High School Congested

Norway High School opened Monday morning with 156 students, last year 123 appeared at the opening of the school year. This increase has congested the rooms and a problem is being worked out. "How to handle the students in the most efficient way."

Fifty-one freshmen are on hand and are occupying the sophomore room, while a general shuffle has been made to accommodate students crowded out by this morning's increase in the seating arrangement. More desks have been added and the place is crowded.

Owing to confusion in moving classes for recitations, more time has been allowed, therefore, a new arrangement in the daily program has become necessary for the unavoidable delay. Whether or not this peculiar situation will work against the efficiency of the teaching force or prove a detriment to thorough scholarship remains to be seen.

Several years ago one hundred students at Norway High was considered a capacity house and the question of more room was agitated. We have the same building and better than a fifty per cent demand for accommodation to-day.

The time has arrived for action if Norway expects to educate her young people at the least expense under healthful conditions. A new commodious building is inevitable.

Prizes Offered at High School

At its annual session the class of 1913, Paris High School, voted to give two prizes of ten dollars each every year to the boy and girl who excel in a four years' course of English pursued at Paris High School. For several years the class has felt that the school should be more prominent in good scholarship. The class would like to see the pupils really interested in good, honest workmanship and scholarship; it would like to see the number of boys and girls entering advanced schools increase rather than diminish; it would like to see these boys and girls adequately prepared to compete with those from any other school.

It is realized that these prizes go a very little way in bringing about all the desirable results mentioned but the class simply desires to set the ball rolling. It hopes that other classes of the alumni will think of many more ways to improve the usefulness of the school and indirectly the community.

The regulations for awarding the prizes follows:

1. The granting of the prizes shall be in the hands of a committee of three chosen by the class.

2. Two prizes of ten dollars each shall be awarded to the boy and girl who excel in a four years' course of English pursued at Paris High School.

3. The first prizes will be given in the class of 1923 and thereafter each year until withdrawn by vote of the class.

4. To make the competition as practical as possible an original short story of not over fifteen hundred words will be required from each candidate. These compositions are to be given to the principal of the school before the Easter vacation.

5. In determining the results of the competition the total rank in English shall count as 60 per cent and the short story as 40 per cent.

6. The prizes are to be awarded at the commencement exercises.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Norway Reader.
The test of time is the test that counts.
Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.
The following case is typical.
Norway residents should be convinced The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.
Wm. O. Needham, retired farmer, Main St., Norway, says: "At different times when I have taken cold, my kidneys have become affected. Several years ago when I felt that my kidneys needed attention, I got Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Stone's drug store. They strengthened my kidneys, ridding my system of the excess uric acid and in a short time I felt much better."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on June 6, 1916, Mr. Needham said: "I still gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. My confidence in them is as strong as ever. I occasionally use Doan's when I feel in need of them and always get fine results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Needham had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs.,

AMERICA GREET'S YOU

From north and south and east and west Our khalied heroes hail, Who fought the fight and gave their best
That Norway might be free and fair.
No bugle's blast proclaimed their quest As eastward trains were rushed,
That Norway might be free and fair.
Our farewells all were hushed But many a prayer went with our men "God guard you—strike the foe, If Norway's cause is just and true, There's none shall say you're wrong."

Along sea-lanes where lurked the Hun In monsters of the deep Our watch-dog Navy's work was done—All honor may they reap.
And safely near the ports of France Our first and many more, Have loved the land and blessed the chance That glimpse of hill and shore.

From Somerville to far Sedan, Solisone, Cantigny too, Saint Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne We've watched your spirit true.
And many a Hun has rued the day That saw your gleaming steel The Allied cause was driven through And haughty monarchs kneel.

And now we hear the martial tramp
Of many thousand feet, Returning heroes home at last We pause with joy to greet.

We honor you, Oh men of ours!
Emotion halts our breath—
The thought of comrades close to you, Their voices stilled in death.

You fought for God—his righteous cause You fought in fact and arms And in our hearts we give you place—Our Country's Hall of Fame.

ROAD NOTES.

"Nobody would think of shovelling gold coins on the surface of the road and leaving them there to be worn out, yet that is what is being done every year.
Thousands of dollars are spent for road improvements each year, but after the improvement is made it is a common occurrence to leave the new road to the mercy of the traffic and the weather.
It is true that today the importance of maintenance is being recognized more than it was in the past, but there are still communities that believe that a road surface is permanent and should never wear out."

In some localities the other extreme is reached. People do not appreciate the economic advantage of a first class road, but they are willing to maintain their dirt roads. This is commonly done by taking any material that may be on hand, such as sods, clay, loam or gravel, which is so much so much vegetable matter, that the least rain will produce a surface that is frequently mud to the depth of two feet or more. Of course, it must be realized that these materials are not suitable. Too much fine material should be used on a hard road surface or even a temporary surface, if the weather is wet, and the money that is thrown on a road in this way, if spent intelligently, would result in a vast improvement over the present conditions.

Sometimes, the foreman of a gang building a road is under the impression that he is building a gravel road simply because there happens to be gravel in the bank where he is getting his material.
Gravel suitable for road building should be well graded from large to small particles and should contain just sufficient sand and other binder to cement the mass together. If a material, as it stands in the bank, is not of the proper proportions, it should be screened and the excess large or fine material should be thrown out. A gravel road to be kept in first class condition should receive the constant attention of a maintenance and repair gang. This type of surface should

ATTRACTIVE SCHOOL LUNCHEONS
When the children are obliged to carry their lunch to school it is necessary that it be attractive as well as nutritious. Usually the child would rather play than eat, but if his basket is likely to contain his favorite foods he will forego the pleasure of play long enough to partake of its contents.

A wise mother whose little boy was inclined to slight his luncheon in favor of play made a "bargain" with him. If luncheon provided and in the bottom of "prize." The habit of eating luncheon was firmly established with this child.
Variety is a prime necessity and must be kept constantly in mind. The sandwich and fortunately the main part of the meal it can be "different" each day. Cutting the bread in unusual shapes or using another kind of bread helps the variety. The number and kind of sandwiches must be determined by the needs of the particular child.

Fruit, fresh or canned, should always be included. This may be an apple, but orange, banana, berries, etc., in season, but all are equal in every way to the fresh fruit. If canned fruit is used it should be placed in a covered cup such as is used for jelly.

The luncheon should contain some sweets. This may be a custard, a few pieces of home-made candy, plain cake, gingerbread or cookies. In case some of the sandwiches are sweet, made of sweetened raisin bread or filled with jelly, jam, etc., less dessert is needed.
Some liquid should always be provided.
Milk, grape juice and cocoa are all quite satisfactory. Just as the canned fruits may also be used. Thermos bottles keep the cold liquids cold and the hot liquids hot. A hot drink is especially desirable in cold weather. Bouillon may be carried in the thermos bottle and served in a "sanitary" paper cup.

With the wide variety from which to choose there is no excuse for monotony in school lunches. A well-balanced lunch, eaten, daintily packed and carrying an element of surprise, will seldom go uneaten.

For a Cold or Cough to 8 parts cold water add 1 part each of aromatic ammonia, glycerine, sugar.
Dose: 1 teaspoonful every hour and 4 tea-spoonfuls on retiring. For a cough and more sugar to the above as needed.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Efforts are being made in Portland and other cities to have the Daylight Saving Plan another summer and arrangements may be made for the plan to extend over the whole state of Maine.
In many cities of different states clubs and associations are being formed to further arrangements. The great majority of people, business men and farmers, are highly in favor of the plan which has proved very satisfactory during the past two years and its continuance is greatly desired.

While Congress has passed the law, there is nothing to prevent the cities and towns from establishing any hours they may desire. It is also reported that throughout Wisconsin and Michigan the plan is being boosted by people in all walks of life. It is announced that many representatives in the legislatures in the so called Eastern zones are advocating the passage of the daylight savings law and they are being widely supported.

SULPHUR FUMES AS A CURE FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

In a paper read before the Society of the Alumni of Bellevue Hospital, Dr. E.
Tweddell stated that the inhalation of the fumes of burning sulphur are of great benefit in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis.

Dr. Tweddell had already found sulphur fumes effective in the treatment of various infections, and presently it was found that even tuberculosis responded to the properties of the acid gas. Cases showed complete cures after a few weeks treatment.

The methods mentioned for the production of sulphur dioxide are burning sulphur or sulphur candles, or by liberating gas stored in liquid form in steel tanks.
It is known that certain occupations are comparatively free from tuberculosis.
Medical literature has long numbered coal miners in this class. We read: "Coal dust prevents the development of phthisis and miners are less subject to phthisis than all other occupied males." This immunity, though seems to be not as great today as it was.

Why should coal dust prevent consumption? It can act in but one way on the lungs, as an irritant—like any other foreign body that is not absorbed by the tissues. Also, it is stated in medical literature that employment in coal yards does not entail any freedom from tuberculosis. Why? The coal dust is the same whether in coal yard or mine.

Dr. Tweddell proceeded to investigate this inconsistency. He went to chemists and engineers and stated that he was certain that sulphur fumes must be present in mines; that only in this way could the immunity of miners from tuberculosis be explained. The experts unanimously stated that coal dust did not decompose, and to the suggestion of the physician that sulphur fumes from a mine, penetrate through the fissures in tight coal piques that there were no fissures in anhydrite. Briefly, there was no way for sulphur fumes to get into a mine.

Finally, one of the engineers tested the present. It was due to the burning of the sulphur contained in the blasting powder.
The amount of fumes varied with the number and frequency of the blasts. This explains the immunity of miners from tuberculosis.

Very powerful air fans are now used in mines. This brings about a smaller proportion of sulphur fumes, and accounts for the lessened immunity of modern miners from tuberculosis.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. The mucus is thickened and the tube is inflamed.

The tube is imperfectly closed, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing deafness is caused forever. Many cases of catarrhal deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface of the nasopharynx. One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars

Now or a month from now—here or hundreds of miles from here—it's the same.

Inferior, inert mixtures shorten engine life. Think twice before you buy them. Choose So-CO-ny. At the So-CO-ny Sign.

OXFORD COUNTY FAIR OBSERVATIONS

E. H. Fellows' Shows went to Farmington early in the week. They had several days for the jump and were not loaded in their special car until Tuesday. Business proved good considering the ferris wheel was the only machine in operation until Saturday. During the last day money poured into the coffers but no land slide is reported. They expect to return next season with a merry-go-round which will scoop the board clean.

No band music this year. The Lewiston Brigade came up Tuesday morning by automobile and returned immediately. This would have been their tenth annual trip here. And they were missed especially Saturday when their music between heats would have made the fair seem more like our regular show.

Baseball is a live feature as the enthusiastic side line crowds proved. The society made no mistake by getting the Norway and West Paris teams onto the field. Arthur Walker of Oxford had a strong aggregation engaged to represent his town against West Paris but rain up set all plans and the players couldn't be held over.

Wet weather, wild men and the Harem damsel didn't blend. Sometime Friday night the two shows packed up their belongings and beat it out of town. They left behind their platform with pits and banner frames, also in the rush they forgot to settle a few bills it is said.

Dust was flying on the track before noon, Saturday, some twelve hours after the heavy rain ceased falling. Odell C. Rich with the Garford truck kept the circle brushed during the races but no sprinkler was needed this year. The course was in fine condition for speed.

Robert York formerly of Norway, who commenced years ago here with a ten pin game is still at it. His strong speciality is working summer parks and beaches. A glutted market and rain made business dull until Saturday when he opened a "Harem" show for men only and gathered in the shekels. High prices plus war tax causes no inconvenience to the purse "wiggler" posing as a dope exponent.

Dallas L. Benson of East Oxford formerly a Texas ranger was featured near the Cattle Department, Saturday in a miniature wild west show. He saddled and rode a horse not broken to the ways of civilization. Three months ago the animal was unmanageable and primitive, never having been trained. A course of instruction at the Fuller farm in East Oxford broke him in to harness, then a wagon followed, now he is the most willing worker on the place. H. H. Hosmer the snow-shoe man of Norway, with western experiences assisted in the show with a good exhibition of lariat spinning and juggling.

E. P. Lombard of Lewiston the pop corn man with a $5000 motor outfit made good with fluffy corn and roasted peanuts. This summer he has built ships at Bath during the day, and operated the traveling store on the street corner evenings. After settling down from the fair he plans to drive the motor store to the factory in Chicago for painting, alterations and a general over hauling. While the job is being completed he will winter under the sunny skies in California. We can expect him at our fair next year.

Corp. Rice, the iron jaw man went on exhibition Saturday afternoon at various places. Several feats of strength and muscled tests were performed at the Fairman Girls show. He was secured for a free attraction on the track in front of the grandstand when he allowed a touring car weighing more than twenty-four hundred pounds motor over his body.

Public opinion is certainly changing up this way. The Girls shows are gaining in popularity and catching on after every bullyho. Years ago this flashy and sensational display wouldn't pass. The only way to get a modified conch show through was to tack on a sign "Philippines - Belgium - Russia."

Possibly the modern fashions in women's dresses may have let down the bars of our Puritan forebears, and established a new code of ethics in this new world of unsettled ideas. Some twenty-five years ago a prominent circus was chased out of the State for allowing an Egyptian dance in their side show. That was a modest poltry of motion in comparison to our latter day entertainment.

Friday was the middle day and probably the most people disregarded the frowning skies forecasting wet weather and visited the fair. The wind changed about noon from south east to north west and down came rain in torrents until late in the evening. Everybody kept under cover.

The exhibition hall was crowded to the doors throughout the afternoon. Bright lights shone and music from player pianos and a "canned" product entertained the good natured assembly. One of the best displays gathered at any fair of this size offered an interesting study for the rain bound visitors.

The parade of premium stock was given up this year owing to many unavoidable inconveniences. Stockmen were heard hit as many had been on the grounds since Monday waiting for the judges to look 'em over. No premiums in this department were awarded until Friday forenoon, then business went along with a boom.

Saturday was officially the third day for the Oxford County Agricultural Society but to the crowd it was a regular three-in-one with a condensed show covering the whole program.

Clear weather ushered in this last struggle to make it go, but rain soaked the roads kept many home. Probably 10,000 people attended and were entertained up to sun down.

Fakir row had been shot to pieces and many vacant lots were sandwiched in along the line. All exhibits in the hall, cattle and other departments were held over. Although not improved by a week of rain and dampness, the exhibits made a creditable showing and in no wise injured the good reputation of this annual show.

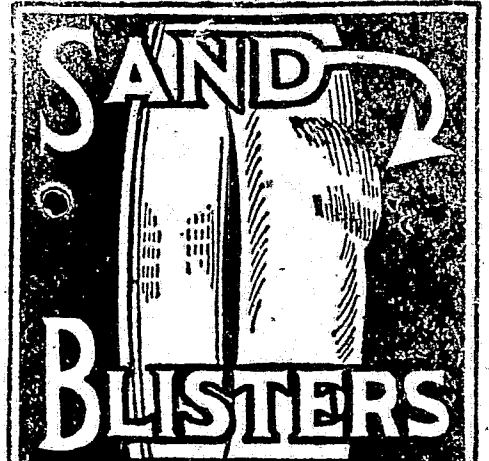

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting was held Saturday afternoon and occupied less than fifteen minutes. President William J. Wheeler who held that office twenty-four years resigned, and expressed a desire to nominate Leslie E. McIntire of East Waterford to that position. Mr. McIntire was elected with a vote cast by the secretary.

E. W. Penley was elected vice-president to succeed Mr. McIntire. William O. Frothingham was elected secretary to succeed himself. Trustees, T. P. Richardson of Norway and W. H. Kilgore of Andover were also re-elected. Arthur G. Haynes of Oxford was a new trustee elected to succeed E. W. Penley.

President Wheeler estimated this year's deficit would be about $5,000. On the

Mrs. Ernest E. Weeks has been spend-

According to the American Legion Weekly, the soldiers and sailors of this County have brought back with them from France, England, Ireland and Scotland, 18,000 brides—most of whom, of course, are utter strangers in the land, and necessarily are the first meeting with the husbands' relatives. The language is not stranger than the mode of life: it's a long way to the thatched roofs and white walls of the village beyond the sea. When the doughboy was in France, he was there a long time for the sights and sounds and air were new to him. It is wonderful, then, if twinges of nostalgia afflict the demoiselle or colleen transplanted to the new world with all her happiness staked upon the married life's venture.

Some of them, of course, suffer a bitter disillusionment. The husband tires of the sworn allegiance, and there are slackers and deserters in marital even as in martial affairs. The imported bride finds that the man she married is far less solicitous of her comfort than she expected. She is back in a land where girls of their own tongue and social tradition are plentiful. She is perhaps less decorative than some of these young women; her training has been in substantial accomplishments of the home. Her husband is more of the playmate than she knows how to be; her youth may have been spent in sobering toil, and since the war nearly all the fun in the world has been in Africa and not in Europe. We are bound to find that the soldier's instinctive comparisons that Europe has been a house of mourning. We have been a house of mirth. We may learn to make allowances for features that are not always frivolously pretty when we reflect that the war has been a time of sacrifice.

Let us, as we are urged to do, receive the war-bride from abroad with every manifestation of sympathy and not as though she had ensnared the doughboy into an entangling alliance. In a few instances, she may be truly lovely, and that she is marrying him for his money. In most cases he is coming from $33 a month to conjectural occupation. She is bravely electing to share with him a hazard of new fortunes, and she displays a commendable initiative like his own when he went overseas. We are bound to reveal the lively versatility we associate with the nature of the American girl, but she will, in a congenial environment of answering devotion, show the attributes of affectionate constancy that are the basis of all good marriages.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

For the past six years the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station has been making exhaustive study on the physiology of milk production and the laws of inheritance. Below a very simple method of determining the production of the first five lactations of a cow's life from that of her heifer record. The first five lactations were chosen only because it was a convenient number and represented about the average time that most cows remained in the herd.

The reckoner is a pencil, yard stick, and sheet of paper a little over 2 feet wide and 3 feet long. Draw a line the length of the stick, and divide it into 100 from the edge. From the left hand end of this line draw a vertical, perpendicular to the base line, 14 inches in length. Twenty-five inches from this line along the base draw another vertical, perpendicular to the base, 14 inches high. Connect the top of the 14 inch vertical with that of the 36 inch vertical. Mark the base of the 14 inch vertical 1500. Measure from the intersection of the 14 inch vertical and the base line, mark this dot 1700; the next inch dot will be 1900 pounds and so on up to the base of the 36 inch vertical. These 1500, 1700, etc. represent the milk in hundred pounds in pounds 3.8 mm. of her first lactation.

NEED MANY MEN FOR MAINE WOODS

It is estimated that there will be over 4,000 men employed in the woods of Maine during the present season which will continue into the Spring months. There is a good demand for men in the various classes of that work. The logging operations in Maine will not, from present appearances, be on such a large scale as usual. The majority of the contracts will be conducted by the smaller jobbers. As a greater part of the timber is cut for pulp mill uses it is not necessary to make such a great effort as when the forest product is used for the long lumber mills. Many of the large pulp mills that have wide timber limits are cutting only what they need over and above the supplies that are coming from other sources. Large amounts of wood are coming from Canada to the mills, and the Maine owners of timber tracks are letting their lumber stand as long as possible. Lumbering in New Hampshire this year will be quite extensive.

For a number of years the city of New York has contemplated the creation of a city planning commission for regulating the various civic improvements and undertakings of the municipality as well as those of private individuals. The work which would come under the supervision of such a city planning commission would include, among other things, housing, industrial structures, the conveyance of supplies and materials of manufacture and manufactured products, the disposal of waste material, the arrangement of the various sections of the city in accessible manner, rapid and convenient means of transportation, the provision of facilities for education and public recreation.

These are the fundamental objects of city planning, but many other city activities would come under the supervision of the city planning commission, such as regulating the height of buildings, dividing the city into districts, and zoning, traffic regulations, etc.

It may be necessary first to expose the sores and infirmities of present economic conditions, but it is the course of treatment to restore health and safety that is most important. The true objective of good citizenship is Government based upon principles of liberty equality and justice.

Build Now

The general opinion of those qualified to judge is that all building material will be higher instead of lower, and we believe this ourselves.
At this time we have a complete stock of all kinds of building material; at most impossible to get shipments from the mills and in our opinion the situation in this respect will not improve, so we say BUILD NOW.

14 Points of Economy

POINT SEVEN! Ladies, we have in stock several pairs of black and brown shoes, and owing to the tremendous increased cost of manufacturing, averaging in many cases 50 per cent., it is perhaps needless for us to say that it will be impossible for us to replace this line of footwear at the price we are selling them for. Call and look them over and without doubt you will see at a glance that it is a chance to save on your next pair of shoes.
While attending the Oxford County Fair don't fail to give us a call as usual, we are always pleased to see you and will be pleased to show you whether you buy or not.

BUCKFIELD

Thomas S. Bridgman

The funeral of Thomas S. Bridgman, who died in Buckfield, Sept. 15, of pneumonia, was held from Hotel Long on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Frank Dresser officiating. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Henry H. Nulty, and one brother, William H. Bridgman of Buckfield.
A son, Harold Bridgman, died in Illinois a few years since, and a brother, the late Dr. Charles B. Bridgman, died in Cohasset, Mass., where he was a leading practitioner. Capt. Bridgman was genial and social and during a long life of nearly eighty-three years, has held many offices of trust.

Mr. Bridgman was born in Buckfield, Nov. 29, 1836, the son of Sydenham and Lucretia (Shepard) Bridgman. As a schoolboy he was a schoolmate of the late Hon. John D. Long and Hon. Edward L.
Parris, who now resides on Paris Hill.
Mr. Bridgman attended college and spent a year at Tufts. Later he read law with Sullivan C. Andrews at Buck-field, and with Judge Howard and Sewell C. Stout in Portland, and was admitted to the Cumberland bar in 1859. He began the practice of law at Bryant's Pond and there married a daughter of James H. Farnum. Later he practiced at Windham and at Mechanic Falls.

At the breaking of the civil war he was engaged as recruiting officer. In 1863 he enlisted as a private in a Maine regiment, but was soon afterwards commissioned by Governor Andrew of Massachusetts, second lieutenant in the 54th Massachusetts Regiment, where he served until discharged in August, 1865.
After leaving the service he engaged in business for a time in Buckfield and Portland, and then resumed the practice of law in his native town, where he has ever since resided.

Besides his law practice, he had for some years a large interest in the brush factory. In town affairs he served many years on the board of selectmen, and as other candidates. He was always a democratic, serving on the State and other committees and active in the councils of the party. In 1880 he was elected representative to the legislature. Under President Cleveland's first administration he received an appointment at Portland custom house and held the position some over four years. In 1915 he was appointed by President Wilson one of the board of managers of soldiers' homes.

He was a member of the Episcopal church, of the Masonic order, and the Grand Army of the Republic.

LOSS OF APPETITE

Is very common. In many cases it is due to impure blood, which cannot give the digestive organs the stimulus necessary for the proper performance of their functions.
Thousands know by experience that Hood's Sarsaparilla restores appetite, and would advise you to give it a trial this season. It origi-

RUMFORD

Cross-Whiten

An attractive wedding took place Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock at the Saint Barnabas Episcopal Church when George Stanley Cross and Eliza Robichaud were united in marriage by the Rev.
Franklin Joiner of Philadelphia, the single ring service being used. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Alfred Cross, the bride procession passed down the center aisle and was led by the ushers, Leonard Robichaud, a brother of the bride and Kenneth Seymour, a cousin of the bride, followed by Thyllis Seymour, who served as bridesmaid. The bride followed with her father, Edward Wheten and her yearly was met at the chancel by the groom and his attendant, Daniel Robichaud, a brother of the bride.

The ceremony was most impressive and a large number of friends and relatives were present. The church was decorated with autumn leaves, woodbine, asters and many potted plants arranged by the ladies of St. Barnabas Guild.

The bride's gown was of white georgeette crepe over white satin and she wore a hat of georgette crepe. Her bridal bouquet was of golden chrysanthemums and white feverfew. The bridesmaid was becomingly gowned in blue tulle and carried pink sweet peas.

After the ceremony, luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents in Urquhart street with only the immediate family and relatives present. Sweet peas were used in the home decorations.
Mr. and Mrs. Cross left in the afternoon for the bride's traveling suit being brown silvertone with hat in harmonizing shades. Upon their return from their wedding journey they will take up their residence at 11 Urquhart street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheten and she has lived in Rumford during the past six years.
Since her graduation from the Stephens high school in 1916 she has been employed by the Maine Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Cross of Liverpool, England and has been in this country about ten years.
He served in the recent war and was overseas eighteen months, returning in March.
He was a member of the Canadian Black Watch regiment. He is now working in the employ of the Oxford Paper Mill Co.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts including money, linen, silver, china and cut glass. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a ring set with a ruby.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cross have a wide circle of friends who wish them much happiness.

Philbrick-Gleason

A home wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at eight o'clock when Lena Frances Gleason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gleason of Mexico, and Ray Elwin Philbrick, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Alvin Philbrick of Frye were married.
The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Nathaniel Bessie, pastor of the Mexico Congregational Church.
The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Anna Philbrick and Clifford Small served as attendant to the groom. Hazel Drakard, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

In the living room where the ceremony took place chrysanthemums, dahlias and asters were used effectively in decorating. The bride stood beneath an arch of evergreen and hydrangeas and golden rod, in an alcove banked with evergreen and autumn flowers.

The bride was attractively gowned in white georgette crepe and her veil was caught with flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her bridesmaid's gown was of cream crepe de chine and her flowers were pink roses.

Only the immediate families and near relatives of the bride and groom were present. After the ceremony a social meal was enjoyed. Cakes and ices were served by Mrs. Carroll Austin and Mrs.
A. E. Small.

After a honeymoon spent at the Rangeley Lakes, the bride couple will return to their home which is awaiting them at 32 Osprey Avenue, Mexico.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gleason and belongs to one of the oldest families of the town as her grandfather was one of the early settlers of Mexico. She was graduated from Mexico high school in the class of 1918 and has been teaching for the past year in Frye.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Alvin Philbrick of Frye, and is a popular young man, holding a position at the Oxford Paper Company mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick received a large number of beautiful presents.
The best wishes for a happy married life are extended to them by their many friends.

Rosindale Woman Recommends This Prescription

Mrs. Albert J. Patch, of Rosindale, Mass., writes: "Before taking your medicine (Dr.
Truett's Elixir) I was troubled with what I thought stomach trouble. I had that terrible gnawing in my stomach nearly all the time.
Within half an hour after eating a hearty meal, I was lying in bed every day.
I would have that same disagreeable feeling. I was losing weight every day.
After taking your medicine (Dr. Truett's Elixir) I was relieved of that terrible gnawing in my stomach, expelled worms, and I felt like a new person in many ways, and would heartily recommend it to any one suffering as I did."

Headaches, tired feeling, weakness, spots before the eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness, constipation can be relieved, if you take the prescription known as Dr.
Truett's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It has done good for sick people, men, women and children, ever since 1851, over 48 years reputation. AT ALL DEALERS.

Norway History and Ancient Letter

We have recently bought a David Noyes' History of Norway. In it is an autograph of Levi Whitman and no doubt he once owned it. It relates to family matter.

Esquire Eastman's Desk

W. H. Hobb of Island Pond, Vt., attended the Cattle Show last week. He is a son of the late W. C. Hobb of this town. At one time he lived at East Stoneham and was burned out there. He saved from the fire the writing desk used by Job Eastman, who was town clerk of Norway forty years, from 1803 to 1843. This desk Mr. Hobb says was given to him by his father. It was a letter from Jock Bartlett of East Stoneham and as such he knows its history. It is a desk and he could easily identify it and quit claims verbally his interests in it to the writer.

Possibly Dr. H. L. Bartlett may know about the desk and allow us to take it to the Advertiser's office.

Mr. Hobb and Will Hascall married sister's and he visited with the latter during the fair. He has a big farm in Vermont.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I saw the Compound advertised in the paper and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. D. M. Altrich, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill.
